A North American Buying & Marketing Group

Dear DPA Member,

We are pleased to offer you this complimentary DPA Buyers Guide, which showcases over 230 of our preferred DPA suppliers broken down by product category. Please use this handy publication or its digital version as a desktop reference when purchasing. All DPA suppliers can be found within their respective industry listing and in the alphabetical list located in the back of the book.

You may not be aware, but DPA's vendor partnerships extend across numerous market segments, including facility maintenance supplies, safety equipment and clothing, industrial tools, abrasives, cords and lighting, material handling, packaging products, and even public safety (police, fire, and EMS). We want to enable all DPA distributors to capture all business whenever and wherever you might find it.

Our hope is that you will consider converting your business to DPA preferred suppliers so that you can take advantage of our quarterly marketing allowances, promotions, better negotiated pricing, and lower order minimums.

Many DPA vendors have purchased advertising to support this Buyer's Guide, and we encourage you to share your appreciation next time you speak with them. Please make note of the various suppliers that are a part of our organization and try to support them.

Finally, there are bound to be some omissions or errors in any publication of this type. We would appreciate your feedback and ideas for future editions by emailing DPA@DPABuyingGroup.com. If you would like to request additional copies for you or your staff, please contact us. A digital version is also available when logging into the DPABuyingGroup.com website.

Thank you for your continued support of DPA!

Meet the DPA Team...

Zachary Haines, CEO

I'm dedicated to increasing the sales of our member distributors and preferred suppliers. This includes creating an environment that enables profitable business relationships, industry awareness, and lifelong friendships amongst our membership. Thank you for your continued support of DPA.

Claire Panzeca,
VP of Marketing & Promotions

You may know me as the person who answers the phones or sent you a welcome email when you first joined. I collect quarterly promotions from suppliers and send the savings your way. I also announce new vendors and important group updates. Please let me know how I can assist you.

Jarred Kennedy, Vice President

I oversee the recruitment of new distributors for DPA as well as a large portion of our vendor partnerships. My day consists of identifying companies throughout our various industries that would be a good fit for our organization. I thrive on competition and look forward to continuing the success and growth of DPA.

Mary Rouse,
VP of Distributor Development

I am the main contact for all of our distributor members once they join DPA. My role is to make sure that our distributor members are receiving their benefits and pleased with their DPA membership. I also coordinate and oversee DPA's annual buying and networking conference as well as industry trade shows.

Nancy Kasian, VP of Finance

I've been with DPA since the beginning. I collect sales reports and CJDs from over 230 DPA suppliers and send them to you on a quarterly basis. I'm also involved with any CJD discrepancies and tabulations. My role is everything finance and accounting.

Don Reycroft, VP of Public Safety

With over 37 years of experience in the Police, Fire, and EMS industries, I am in charge of developing DPA's new Public Safety division. This includes vendor and distributor recruitment and development. I'm very pleased to lead the first group of its kind.

Lauren Turner, Finance Assistant

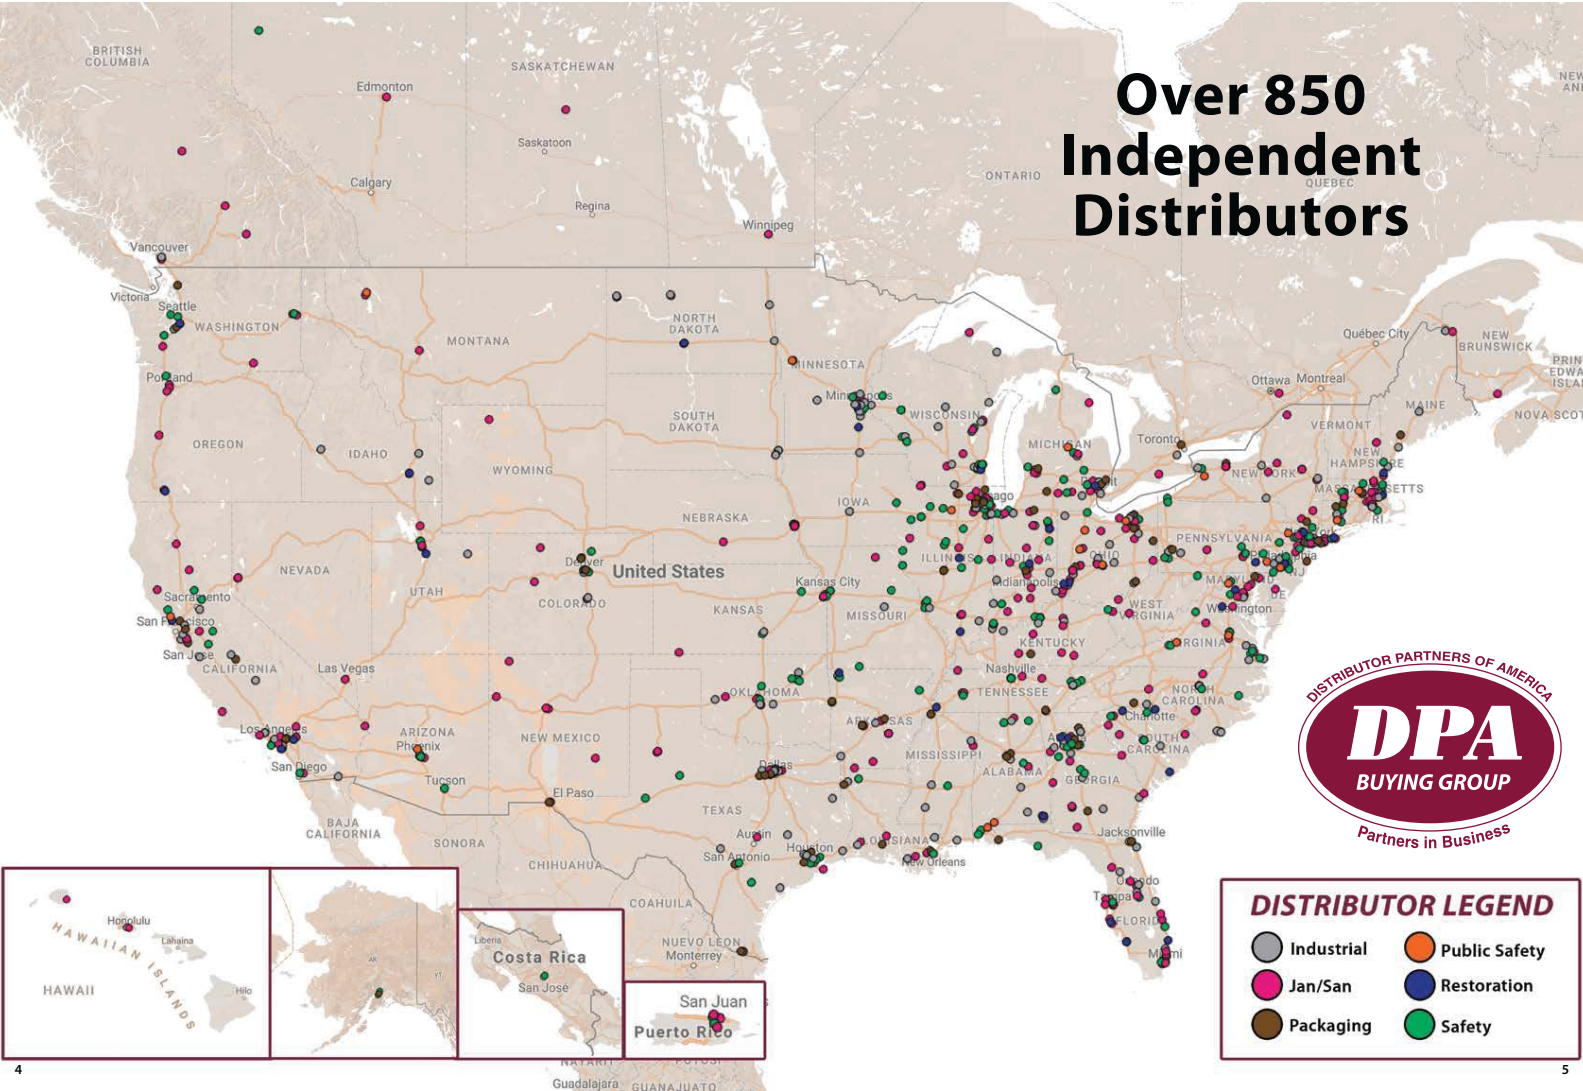

I assist with CJD reporting and processing. This includes collating over 850 distributor mailings on a quarterly basis. I also help Nancy make sure that DPA's finances and accounting are timely and accurate.

Phil Clark, VP of Online Media

I joined DPA in 2013. I am in charge of social media, digital marketing, and graphic design for the company. I designed most of the materials you see at the show, as well as DPA's print media in trade publications.

USA Compass Minerals

© 2018 Compass Minerals. All rights reserved.

Summer and early fall are prime times for distributors to begin their pre-sell programs for ice melter. Compass Minerals is helping schools, universities and municipality customers successfully implement ice melter programs.

By having ice melter on hand, customers are better positioned to ramp up inventory in case winter conditions escalate. Compass Minerals offers Ice Melter product lines for JAN/SAN distributors and wholesalers. Our series of products has been specifically designed to meet the needs of the JAN/SAN professional, offering the right combination of price and performance, from value blends to environmentally friendly mixes, to products that are fast-acting at extremely low temperatures. Our Safe Step-branded ice melters include:

- Safe Step Pro Series 960 Choice Formula
- Safe Step Pro Series 750 Magnesium Chloride
- Safe Step Pro Series Select Brands
- Safe Step Pro Series 370 Econo Blend Blue®

Compass Minerals is aware of the growing emphasis on environmentally friendly products and is responding to expanding end-user desires for these types of ice melters. We strongly advise consumers to know what they are buying. Distributors should look for objective third-party validation, such as the EPA's Safer Choice label. They can also look for proof that manufacturers are substantiating their claims with scientific data. Compass Minerals tests and validates its ice melt performance claims using Strategic Highway Research Protocol procedures and quantifies environmental claims for its products.

CROSSSTEP

FIBERGLASS STEP LADDER

When it comes to quality, nothing can top Louisville Ladder's Cross Step series. The entire line is engineered to exceed industry standards, and along the way it has become the industry standard. But when you're at the top, you become a target for imitations. Try as they might, there are no ladders on the market that match the Cross Step's ability to help you reach higher, reach safer, and reach peak productivity. In any workspace.
